Justen, The Hero

Yeah, did ya'll really think I WOULDN'T write about the heroism that took place? It's true, I probably shouldn't be writing about this, but something this good is so hard to ignore! Justen went and had sex with his ex. Ok, that's not that big a deal. But when he can still get his girlfriend to stay by his side, WOW! That my friends deserves a man of the month award. Personally I believe he's up for man of the year, coming out in my next issue.

You really have to take a good long look at this to understand the magnitude of pulling off a feat this large. Now that he's successfully gotten his girlfriend back in his arms, now he can do this ALL the time! In an interview conducted with his significant other earlier this week, she stated, "I would forgive him no matter what he does. You don't understand, I just love him that much." Hell yeah!! Now that she will take you back no matter what, it's time to go drink and do it again! When a man has an opportunity this huge, he has to take it. So to you Justen, I salute... our MAN OF THE MONTH!

Kroger... The Black Hole

The life sucking system that's known as Kroger continues to take victims into its never ending vacuum of a hell hole. Innocent bystanders, one after another, have signed up for the "draft," and continue to fall in to the evil hands of Linda Mann and her minion of evil doing warriors. I got out while I could, and if you still work there you should too. Of course, it was in my best interest to leave, because had I stayed another week I would have been fired for my website. But that's beside the point. Leave while you can. Pack up your families and move to another part of town. If you want to turn in to an Alfred Hetter, go ahead and stay. But just be warned.

My 4 year anniversary of my hire is coming up soon. So you know what that means! That's right, I'll be running through the store with my Johnson flapping in the wind. It's tradition. If you don't want to see, don't go to Kroger this week.

My Thoughts on Bitches

Well, I guess sense this newsletter isn't being seen by the whole internet, I can say what I want about certain people. Just to keep myself out of legal problems, I'll be sure not to use names though. I hate girls that believe their soul purpose in life is to live and breathe for a guy. I guess this sort of relates to my article, "Justen, the hero." Ya know, how important is a girl when she'll let ya sleep with an ex, and you can go back to her in a heartbeat? Think about that for a while, because that shit really leaves me awake at night. Sure, if you were looking for unconditional sex and STDs, then I'd stay with her. But when you have to settle down and start thinking of a girl to be the mother of your children, you gotta reconsider the decision to make this ho your wife.

Having a girl that lets you do whatever you want isn't fun! I've been there before, and I found myself LOOKING for things to piss her off. Come on, think about it! You can't do anything wrong. Anytime you wanna fight, she agrees with you. Sound familiar? Sounds like an ass kisser for life to me. You gotta worry about that. So you know what, here's what you do. Leave her. Push her down a flight of stairs. Trip her when you're crossing traffic. Whatever you have to do to get away from her, cause you know the backlash is coming eventually! LOSE THE LOOSE BITCH.

News From The Back Dude

No one's heard much from the black dude lately. Probably because he's moved back to Tennessee and had his car stolen. That's right, late Thursday night a suspect broke in to black dude's 1994 Honda Civic, hot wired it, and stole it. The car was parked right outside of black dude's window, and was stolen about 11:30pm. Chances are the car has been stripped down and distributed through out Middle Tennessee by now. But if anyone gets offered a yellow spray-painted engine out of a Civic, let the black dude know.

Advice From A Man To A Woman...

- If we leave the country for the weekend, don't expect us to be faithful.
- When given the choice of sex or watching the game, we'll take both please.
- If you ever with-hold sex, expect to be pushed out of our moving car.
- Windsor, Canada is a great place if you're a 20 year old male.
- When we ask what's wrong and you say, "nothing," we will assume you're ok. OK?!
- If a "co-worker" asks us to dinner, it's not a couple dudes having beers after work.
- Get pregnant on purpose, and you WILL be pushed down a couple flights of stairs.
- Jewelry is to shut you up.
- We hate your mom.
- My grandma wasn't REALLY sick when I had to "leave town."
- The two words your should fear the most. "Road Trip."
